Sow These Choice Seeds Now.

Biennials and Perennials.

These are sometimes called the "poor man's flowers," because when once a bed of them is established many of the plants will live and bloom for years with but little care. Some, as Daisies, Margaret Carnation, Gaillardia compacta and Centaurea Imperialis will bloom the first season, but most of them bloom the second year after the plants are started. The biennials, as the Adlumia vine and Lunaria bloom the second year, then die. Most of the biennials, however, keep up an annual supply from self-sown seeds. All Biennials and Perennials are successfully sown in boxes or prepared beds in May, June or July. Do not delay getting and sowing the seeds till another spring. You will lose a whole year by so doing, and life is too short to lose a whole year's pleasure with these choice flowers by a little neglect in getting and sowing the seeds. The cost of the seeds is hardly worth considering. Club with your friends, and send in a large order at once.

Antirrhinum, New Giant-flowered Semi-dwarf, Fragrant, Black Purple, Pure White, Rosy Pink, Golden Yellow, Variegated. Make an elegant bed, edged with Tunica. The six packets 15 cents. The Snapdragons mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Anchusa affinis, splendid blue perennial, blooming first season. 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Aquilegias, Large-flowered, glorious new varieties of Columbine in splendid mixture; 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Daisy, Giant Double (Bellis), the improved, large-flowered sort; a superb hardy, everblooming edging plant. White, red and rose mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Calceolaria, Bedding, highly praised by English florists; beautiful, free-blooming plants; mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Campanula, new large-flowered, Peach-leaved; special mixture, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents. Also Canterbury Bells, double and single and Cup and Saucer, in mixture, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Carnation, New Malmaison, immense fragrant flowers, produced the first season. 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Carnation, New Chabaud, elegant continuous-blooming sort; mixed colors, 4 pkts. 10c, 1 pkt. 3c.

Centaureas, New Fragrant, the large Imperial and Odorous varieties in special mixture. 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Comelinia Sellowiana, splendid trailing plant for pots and baskets; showy rich blue flowers. Four packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Delphinium, Early-flowering, superb blue and white flowers; perennial; very fine; Mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Delphiniums, Park's Orchid-flowering, single and double; grow from 4 to 7 feet tall; all the rich new colors—white, blue, violet and yellow in fine mixture; 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Digitalis, Foxglove, splendid mixture of all sorts, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Dianthus, New Japanese, Double and Single; large rich flowers throughout the season; special mixture, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

• Eremurus Robustus, Giant Hyacinth Lily from Turkestan, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Gypsophila paniculata, charming fairy-like flowers in profusion on almost invisible stems; fine for bouquets; hardy perennial. 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Mr. Park:—What is more beautiful than Gypsophila paniculata, with its misty sprays of tiny white blossoms! It gives grace to a bouquet of flowers that nothing else will, and grows so readily in any common soil, with so little trouble that I would think every one would have some of it.—Mrs. Warner Chapin, Hampden Co., Mass.

Gaillardia, Compact Bedding, an elegant bedding perennial, always blooming freely; showy and hardy; mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Gunnera, Giant Ornamental; enormous leaves, six to eight feet across; mixed sorts, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Heracleum giganteum, a monster perennial from the Caucasus; 12 feet high, with immense flower umbels; easily grown; 4 packets 10c, 1 packet 3c.

Heuchera sanguinea, splendid perennial with scarlet, white and rose flowers; mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Linum Perenne, the Perennial Flax; everblooming; very pretty hardy plants; blue and white mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Lunaria variegata, the variegated Honesty; handsome in both foliage and flower; biennial; 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Primrose, Park's Hardy, elegant spring-flowering perennials; white, yellow, rose, etc., mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Peas, Perennial, handsome climbing everblooming hardy plants; flowers white to rich red; fine for trellis or trailing bed; mixed, 4 pkts. 10c, 1 pkt. 3c.

Phlox, Perennial, showy panicles of rich-colored flowers; mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3c.

Poppies, Perennial, a gorgeous perennial; flowers from five to nine inches across, of rich colors; mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Platycodon, the Chinese Bell Flower, one of our finest hardy perennials; large blue and white flowers; mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3c.

Pink, Park's Everblooming, new, hardy, fragrant, always blooming in summer and autumn; 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Romer's Giant Prize Pansies, the finest, the largest, richest strain known; there are none better; mixed, all colors, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 pkt. 3 cents. 10 packets in shades, 25 cents.

Saponaria ocymoides splendens, a grand spring-blooming perennial; a mass of pink, clustered blooms; 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Valerian, Fragrant, the Garden Heliotrope; white, rose and scarlet mixed, 4 packets 10c, 1 packet 3c.

Tufted Pansy, splendid Bedding Violas, everblooming, all colors from white to royal purple, also variegated; 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3c.

Wallflower, Early Parisian, the new early-blooming sort; very handsome for pots and the garden; 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Sweet William, Giant Holborn Glory, the largest-flowered and finest Sweet Williams; deliciously fragrant, marvelous in color and markings; 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

For The Window Garden.

The most healthy and beautiful plants are grown from seeds, and to have fine flowers in winter the seeds should be sown during June, July and August. For handsome pot plants for foliage and bloom the coming winter I especially recommend Acacia lophantha speciosa, Decorative Asparagus, Silver Cloud Aster, Camellia-flowered Balsam, Winter-blooming Begonia, Giant Browallia, Winter-blooming Carnations, Hybrid Cinerarias, Fancy Coleus, Malmaison Carnation, Double Daisy, Eupatorium, Grevillea robusta, Heliotrope, Impatiens Sultani, Kenilworth Ivy, Purple Lobelia, Dwarf Lantana, Baby Nasturtium, New Compact Petunia, Park's Globular Chinese Primrose, Primula obconica, Primula Forbesi, Primula floribunda and Primula gold-laced. All of these are easily grown, and are satisfactory for foliage or flowers in the window if started this month. Pleasure with the window garden is always enhanced by raising and watching the plants from the tiny seedlings till full-grown and blooming, and this method is highly recommended. Order seeds for yourself and friends this month.

Acaia lophanta speciosa, the elegant new Fern Tree. One of the most beautiful easily grown pot plants known. 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3c.

Achimenes, lovely gesneriacious plants; mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Angelonia grandiflora, splendid house plant; mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Asparagus, Decorative, special mixture, Plumbosus, Sprengeri, etc.; mixed, 4 pkts. 10c, 1 pkt. 3c.

Asters, Park's Silver Cloud, the finest white Aster for beds or pots. Pure white, very floriferous. 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Balsam, Park's Prize Camellia, for winter-blooming in pots. Double as a rose, and showing all colors from white to crimson. 12 colors, separate, 5 cents per packet. Special mixture, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Begonia, Park's Winter-blooming, fine free-blooming sorts for the window in winter; mixed colors, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Browallia, New Giant, elegant large blue flowers; always blooming, splendid for pots. 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Carnations, Winter-blooming, rich and varied colors; mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Cinerarias, Park's Large-flowered, most showy of window plants; easily started; mixed colors, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents. New Stellata, same price.

Cyclamen, Giant-flowered, mixed colors from white to cream, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents. Bloom in from 12 to 18 months after sowing. Every seed grows.

Chrysanthemums, Splendid Double, Veitch's Finest Mixture, the showy fall perennial seen at Fairs; 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Coleus, Fancy-leaved, easily grown, showing the richest colors; finest strains mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Eupatorium serratum, the new fringed sort; showy white flowers; 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Gloxinias, Park's New Hybrid, in superb special mixture, all the new large-flowered sorts, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Mr. Park:—I planted a packet of your Hybrid Gloxinia seed the first of April 1902 and to my delight raised forty fine plants that began blooming early in July. They were as easy to raise as cabbage plants, and the flowers were simply grand.—Mrs. Lillie Pleas, Washington Co., Fla., Dec. 11, 1902.

Geranium, Zonale, finest mixture, all colors, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Grevillea robusta, the Australian Silk Oak, fine pot plant; 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Heliotrope, New Brabant, the true large-flowered sorts in special mixture, all colors, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Mr. Park:—I never saw as large Heliotropes as I grew from your New Giant or Brabant Heliotrope seeds. I bedded them out last summer, and feel quite safe in saying one plant was over four feet high. They are grand bedding plants, as they stand the sun so well.—Mrs. Lillie Gibson, Mendocino Co., Cal., Dec. 1, 1902.

Impatiens Sultani, the Zanzibar Balsam; an excellent everblooming window plant; mixed colors, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Kenilworth Ivy, a beautiful basket plant for a shady window; also for carpeting a bed of Roses or Gladiolus; 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Mr. Park:—Your Kenilworth Ivy is a good hanging basket plant, and so easy to grow from seeds. It blooms soon after it comes up, and continues to grow and bloom with so little care.—Mrs. Lillie Gibson, Mendocino Co., Cal., Dec. 1, 1902.

Lobelia. New Royal Purple, exquisite blue-flowered plant for pots and baskets; 4 pkts. 10c, 1 pkt. 3c.

Lantana. New Dwarf, superb bedding and pot plants; mixed colors, 4 packets 10c, 1 packet 3c.

Nasturtium, Baby or Lilliput, charming miniature sort for pots or edgings. Yellow, Red, Scarlet and Purple, each 5 cents; mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Ostrovskaia magnifica, a new glorious Campanula-like flower; hardy perennial; seeds very scarce; 1 packet of 5 seeds 10 cents, 3 packets 25 cents.

Petunias, Park's New Compact, fine for winter-blooming in pots; special mixture, 4 pkts. 10 cts., 1 packet 3 cents. Park's Giant Frilled and Plain, Park's Giant Double and Park's Choice Bedding Petunias, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Phlox Drummondii, New Hortense, fine for pots and beds. Special mixture, all colors, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Phoenix Canariensis, a fine, easily grown Palm; 3 packets 25 cents, 1 packet 3 cents. Mixed Palms the same price.

Mr. Park—Phoenix Canariensis is one of the Date palms of the easiest culture, grows very fast, plant is three years old, is large and handsome with glossy green pinnate leaves. It is as easily cared for as a Geranium.—Mrs. Jno. C. Shaw, Sumter Co., S. C. Dec. 8, 1902.

Chinese Primroses, finest fringed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Mr. Park—Your Chinese Primroses are among the most beautiful and desirable of our winter flowers. None repay our care and patience more generously. They require no sunshine, and are always in bloom through all the dark, dreary days of winter. From one three-cent packet, I succeeded in growing a window full for myself, and several to give away.—Mrs. J. L. Wykoff, Crawford Co., Pa., Dec. 4, 1902.

Primrose, Park's Globular Chinese, bears huge frilled flowers in huge clusters, colors from white to rich crimson; special mixture, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Scabiosa, New Giant German, the grand improved Mourning Bride, 14 colors, from white to scarlet, and from azure to black blue; separate, 5 cents; all mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Mr. Park:—Of all the plants to stand late frosts the Scabiosa or Mourning Bride is one to be depended on. I have plucked flowers this month from the border of Brides. Who could not get a lesson of courage from these sweet balls. My sister calls the red ones pin-cushions.—Mrs. Ira Peer, Elgin Co., Can., Dec. 1, 1902.

Salvia, New Giant, the best of Scarlet Salvias; immense racemes of large, brilliant flowers; 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Schizanthus retusus, large, rich-colored flowers in profusion; fine for pots or beds. 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Ten Weeks' Stock, New Early Giant, the finest of these fragrant annuals; many colors, very double; mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Mr. Park:—If the dower folks want a plant that will bloom in a cool room in winter, let them try Ten Weeks' Stock. I have some fine plants raised from seeds purchased of you in the spring.—Mrs. Ben Whitney, Chaut. Co., N. Y., Dec. 10, 1902.

Boston Smilax, a lovely foliage vine for a trellis or pot; flowers very sweet, and succeeded by scarlet berries; 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Mr. Park:—The beautiful Boston Smilax is very easy to grow from seeds. I succeeded in getting over thirty plants from one three-cent pkt. of your seeds.—Mrs. Lillie Gibson, Mendocino Co., Cal., Dec. 1, 1902.

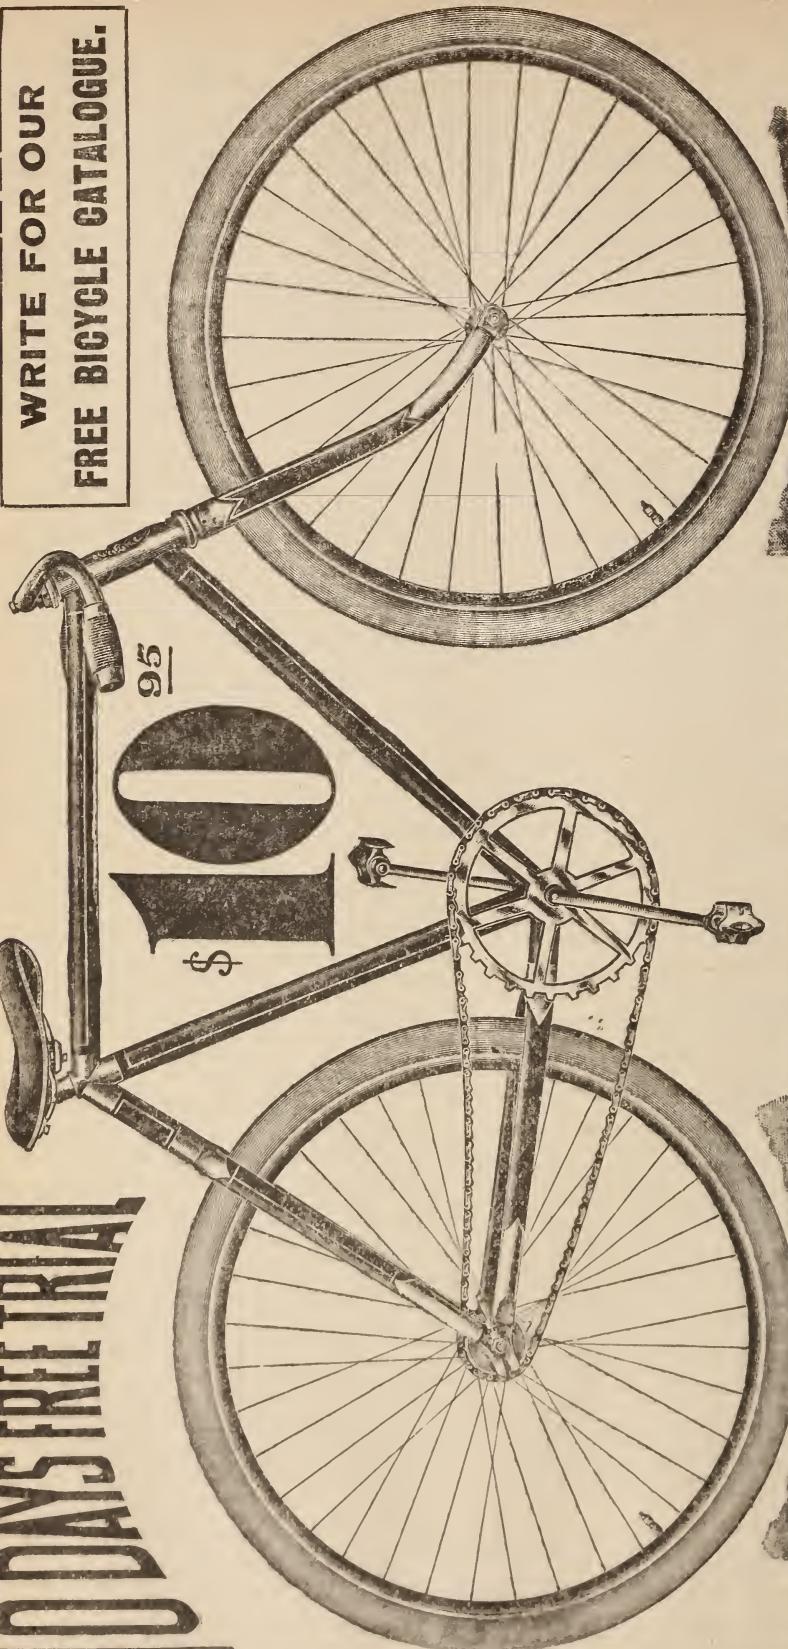

Verbena. New Compact; the greatly improved sort; splendid flowers and clusters; all the choice new shades; 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Vinca rosea, a sure-blooming and beautiful window plant for winter; flowers white and rose; mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3 cents.

Mr. Park:—Of all the flowers for the house or out of doors I think the Vincas are the best, because they are so easy to care for. If kept in the window, they are in bloom all the time. I had a white one that was never without flowers for eighteen months. Seedling plants will begin to bloom when three months old.—Mrs. C. M. Huskey, Jefferson Co., Mo.

WINTER-BLOOMING CARNATIONS.

THE strain of beautiful perpetual-flowering Carnations recently developed by the famous French Carnationist, Moses B. Chabaud, has given a new impetus to the window culture of these flowers. These Chabaud Carnations are not only everblooming, but the seedlings show buds in from five to six months after they are started. The plants are of vigorous habit, and very free-blooming, the flowers being of immense size, double, of the richest colors, and deliciously scented.

able of all Carnations for pot culture in the amateurs' windows, as they do not suffer from variations in the atmosphere and other unfavorable conditions that would make the old-fashioned perpetual-flowering Carnations useless in the window. The plants being started from seeds, are always healthy, and not so liable to be affected by the many insects and diseases that trouble the plants grown from cuttings. The growth is regular, the bloom abundant, and a large proportion of the flowers are double. Sown during the present month (June) the plants will winter in the ground if allowed to grow undisturbed,

WINTER-BLOOMING CARNATIONS.

Some of the plants bear flowers that are attractively fringed, while others show only plain-edged flowers. Some of the flowers are self-colored; others are richly tinted, blended and marked.

These magnificent Carnations are hardy, and will withstand the cold of our severe winters, when started in the spring and allowed to become well established in the open ground. They are, consequently, well adapted for outdoor beds and groups, especially as they are everblooming and attractive throughout the season. They are, too, the most desirand they will begin to bloom early the following season. If potted, however, using a rich, porous, well-drained soil, and shifting until they occupy five-inch or six-inch pots, they will begin to bloom in December, and keep up the display throughout the winter months. Avoid too much heat in the room where the plants are kept, and moisten the atmosphere by evaporating water in an open pan upon the stove or register. The seeds germinate readily, and the young plants come on rapidly. To have branched, well-stooled plants pinch out the shoots during the earlier stages of the plants' growth.

Editorial.

Under Trees.—In a dense shade beneath spreading trees you may plant some of our native hardy Ferns, Lily of the Valley, Hardy Creeping Myrtle, Leucocymum aestivum, English Ivy and various water plants. For a blooming vine use Adlumia cirrhosa. This is a biennial, but if started early the previous year it will make a strong growth, and each plant will stool out and throw up many strong shoots, bearing beautiful, maiden-hair-like foliage and clusters of delicate pink and purple flowers in profusion. It is the most desirable of vines for a shady place. The seeds do not always germinate promptly, and often will lie dormant for a year or more after sowing. Once started, however, the plant self-sows, and you will have no difficulty in keeping up the supply.

Louis Closson Begonia.—The Rex Begonia, Louis Closson, has large, metallic-like leaves, bronze-green center, with a red margin, the body distinctly spotted and blotched with silvery white. It is one of the handsomest varieties. It likes a moist, partially shaded place, and thrives in rich, porous, well-drained soil. If the plants become pot-bound, or the drainage is insufficient the leaves will drop off before they become fully developed. Avoid watering the plants or sprinkling the foliage while the sun is shining brightly upon them. It will often scorch and ruin them, especially when in the conservatory or greenhouse.

Tin Cans.—Many persons succeed better with tin vessels than with earthen ones. The soil in them does not dry out so quickly. See that the drainage is good.

LAVATERA TRIMESTRIS.

LEVERY old, but very beautiful and showy hardy annual is Lavatera trimestris. It belongs to the Mallow family, and is sometimes called Tree Hollyhock, because of the tree-like habit of the plants, which attain the height of from three to five feet, and because the flowers are not unlike those of the Hollyhock in reduced form. It is a native of Southern Europe and Asia Minor, and was introduced about the year 1633.

The plants are easily grown from seeds, which may be sown early in the spring, where the plants are to bloom, or they may be sown in a seed-bed or box and transplanted. Set a foot apart they make a fine display in a border, the exquisite rose and white flowers glittering against the mass of foliage like silk in the bright sunshine. They like a rich, porous soil. The seeds may be sown in June for late fall blooming, or in autumn or early spring for summer blooming.

The name is pronounced Lava' tera, the accented letter having the sound of a in far, and was given in honor of the Lavater brothers, naturalists of Zurich, Switzerland. The specific name means three-monthly, and is pronounced trim-es'-tris.

Impatiens Sultani.—This plant is easily raised from seeds, and is one of the most beautiful and free-blooming of plants, suitable for either pots or beds. The plants branch and assume a tree-like form, and throughout the summer are covered with their attractive salmon and carmine flowers. In groups in a partial shade in the garden they thrive well, and become a mass of beautiful foliage and flowers. If grown in pots and shifted until they occupy six-inch pots they make gorgeous specimens that will bloom throughout the winter months in the window. The seeds may be sown this month in a tray kept in a cool, shady place till the plants are large enough to pot. Plants start readily from seeds, and are of the easiest culture.

Slugs.—To rid your garden or greenhouse of slugs, sow bugs, and the like, introduce frogs. They are harmless little creatures, so far as the plants are concerned, but are set traps night and day—particularly night, for the pests. It is also said that they destroy nocturnal snails.

NEW GIANT HELIOTROPE.

THE special efforts made by a French florist to improve the Heliotrope in habit, in the size of the foliage, clusters and flowers have resulted in a new race of marvelous beauty, now being introduced under the name of Lemoine's Giant or Bruant Heliotropes. The plants are of vigorous, erect growth, bear massive foliage, and every branch is crowned by immense flower clusters often ten to twelve inches across, and the individual blooms twice the size of those of the old-fashioned Heliotropes. The colors range from pure white through the shades of blue to dark purple, and the fragrance is the same as that of the older sorts.

It may not be generally known that the most healthy and beautiful Heliotrope plants are raised from seeds as readily as those of Petunia, and bloom almost as soon. Bedded out they bear the sun well, if kept freely watered, and grow and bloom freely throughout the autumn. As pot plants they are favorites, being showy in appearance, and the exquisite masses of bloom filling the air with their delicious odor. These new varieties will doubtless revive the interest in Heliotropes and become popular. See engraving.

Hardy Garden Plants.—Among the choice hardy garden plants are Aquilegia in variety, Aethionema grandiflora, Arabis alpina, Aubrieta, Double Daisy, Chelone barbata, Delphinium in variety, Campanulas, Carnations, Pyrethrum roseum, Gypsophila paniculata, Hollyhocks, Linum perenne, Digitalis, Gaillardia grandiflora, Perennial Poppies, Perennial Phlox, Perennial Peas, Pinks, Iris, Polemonium, Primula veris, Rocket, Trollius, Verbascum and Wahlenbergia. These are all easily raised from seeds sown this month, and with a few exceptions all will bloom next season. Most of the seedsmen supply the seeds at from three to five cents per packet.

VIOLA PEDATA.

VSUBSCRIBER in Monroe County, Pa., sends the Editor dried specimens of Viola pedata bearing white flowers, with the following note:

"Mr. Editor:—Enclosed find pressed specimens of Viola pedata. I have found this variety growing in the same locality for two years. Is it a sport or a recognized variety? The variety, V. pedata bicolor grows sparingly here, but the plain lavender variety grows abundantly on any poor hillside. What do you think of it?"

The plant is doubtless a well-defined variety. The Editor knows a place where there is a large patch of this Violet bearing flowers striped and blotched white, lavender and velvet. It is to be regretted that a native Violet so varied and beautiful should not be improved by the florist, and brought into general cultivation. It blooms very freely throughout the spring months, and often during the late autumn. It is mostly found in spouty places where the soil becomes very dry at times during summer.

NEW COMPACT ERYSIMUM.

New Compact Erysimum.—The new Dwarf Compact Erysimum is a showy hardy perennial growing six inches high, and bearing in the spring a profusion of bright golden yellow flowers. The little cross-like flowers are produced in clusters, as shown in the engraving, and when the plants are massed in a bed they are gorgeous and beautiful at a time when bedding flowers are scarce. The easy culture of this perennial from seeds recommends it to the amateur. The seeds are sold at from three to five cents per packet, and may be successfully sown this month to have plants for blooming next spring.

Winter-blooming Geraniums.—To have fine Geraniums for winter-blooming put in cuttings during June or July, using only varieties that bloom freely in winter. Shift the plants to larger pots as they grow, and pinch off the buds to prevent blooming during summer. Give a sunny window in winter. Among the better varieties are America and Dryden.

IMPATIENS SULTANI.

FEW persons who grow this plant know of its capabilities. It is one of the easiest of pot plants to propagate from seeds, being almost as readily started as the common Camellia-flowered Balsam. It is one of the most desirable of bedding plants for a sheltered situation, the showy bright salmon and rich carmine flowers being very freely and continuously produced. And it is, as most persons know, one of our very best window plants for blooming either in summer or winter. The plants branch and assume a handsome tree form, and the dense, delicate foliage is a charming background for the attractive flowers which are held above by their slender stems.

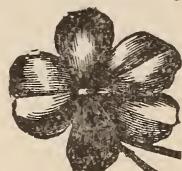

We are accustomed to hear of everblooming plants, and often speak of a plant as everblooming, even though it may show but a few buds or flowers scatteringly during the season. But in the Impatiens Sultani or Zanzibar Balsam, we have a plant that is truly everblooming—is never without buds and flowers—not a few stray buds and blossoms, but dozens and hundreds of them, according to the size of the plant. It likes rich, porous, well-drained soil, plenty of pot room and water, a partial shade in summer and sunny window in winter. Keep it growing and you can not keep it from budding and blooming.

Mrs. Jas. Elmer, of Illinois, writes her experience with this Impatiens, as follows:

"Mr. Editor:—My everblooming Impatiens Sultani began blooming when very young. It grew rapidly, branched freely, and the buds multiplied faster and faster. The little, bright red blossoms among the glossy green foliage were about three-fourths of an inch in diameter, and looked very handsome as they increased. I counted over thirty-five buds on my plant when it was only seven or eight inches high. I would advise every plant lover to try it."

The Editor would heartily endorse the advice of this floral Sister. A three-cent packet of the seeds sown this month will yield a windowful of winter-blooming plants, and the flowers will be of various shades from flesh-white and salmon to dark, rich carmine. The plants thrive in a temperature that suits a Coleus, and requires about the same treatment.

For Shade.—Ten herbaceous plants suitable for a shady place are Anemone sylvestris, Aquilegia, Digitalis, Hemerocallis, Iris, Lily of the Valley, Myosotis dissitiflora, Polemonium reptans, Platycodon, Primula officinalis, Trollius and Viola odorata. Ten bulbous or tuberous plants are Eranthus hyemalis, Erythronium grandiflorum, Funkia grandiflora, Iris Germanica, Leucojum aestivum, Lilium superbum, Ornithogalum umbellatum, Scilla campanulata, Snowdrops and Trillium grandiflorum.

IMPATIENS.

PERENNIAL PEAS.

AMONG the hardy plants commonly grown from seeds the varieties of Lathyrus latifolius, known as Perennial Peas, should stand at or near the head of the list. The plants are perfectly hardy, have no insect enemies, begin to bloom early in the season, and if kept from seeding will bloom the entire season, until after severe frosts. The vines may be trained to a trellis or over a summer house, or may be allowed to trail upon the ground. In either case the flowers, in large clusters, are so easily produced that the plants appear as a mass of bloom. When allowed to trail they form a perennial bed that is not only attractive throughout the season, but does not require watering, and will be fresh and beautiful during a drouth, when most other plants not artificially watered are dry and flowerless. This tenacity is easily accounted for by examining the roots. Like those of the Red Clover, they are large and strong, and penetrate into the subsoil, drawing nourishment from the deep, moist earth far below the surface. The plants, too, are vigorous in growth, and will hold their own and attention which most of our flowering plants demand. The seeds of this grand perennial may be planted this month to have fine blooming plants next year. Put them in where you wish the plants to remain and bloom, as the deep rooting character of the plants makes their removal difficult. The seeds may be obtained to color, as white, rose and red, or they may be purchased in mixture, and cost only from three to five or ten cents per packet. Those who take the advice here given, and start a bed of the choice Perennial Peas this month will always feel thankful in the years to come that their special attention was drawn to this best of perennial vines, in the above laudatory but truthful remarks.

Platycodon.—This splendid perennial is hardy and tenacious, and always satisfactory. It is a first-class herbaceous plant, easily grown from seeds. A fine garden perennial.

ROSES IN POETRY AND SONG.

IHAVE gathered me a posie of other men's flowers, and nothing but the thread that binds them is my own."

"Did Jove a queen of flowers decree,
The Rose a queen of flowers should be.
Of flowers the eye; of plants the gem;
The meadows blush; earth's diadem."

The month of perfect days has come, and rose-tide is at its height. To be sure there will not be a time from now until fall that we may not have Roses galore, but June is rose-time, and we cannot always have June. The June air, the June sunshine, and the June Roses! Let the joy of June into your hearts. It will give peace and rest. Let us heed Herrick, when he says,

"Gather ye rose-buds while ye may,
Old Time is still a-flying,
And this same flower that smiles to-day,
To-morrow may be dying."

How we loved the dear old-fashioned Roses of the old home garden where

"Old garden rose-trees hedged it in,
Bedropst with Roses waxen white,
Well satisfied with dew and light,
And careless to be seen."

They were not splendid nor gorgeous, those old-time Roses, but such happy fancies, such wondrous dreams as emanated from them. How bright and fair the whole world was then! How good and pure everything seemed! Now

"In rose-time I love to lie
Among the grass and name the ships,
Whose sails are clouds in fleecy sky,
And watch their swift, ethereal trips.

"In rose-time, when swallows skim
Adown the dusky way and lane,
I love to look beyond the rim
Of past and be a child again."

From time immemorial the Rose has been the favorite theme of the poets. What quaint conceits and happy inspirations have emanated from it. A poet of the present time happily sings,

"The Rose is such a lady—
So stately, fresh and sweet,
It joys to hold her image,
The rain-pool at her feet.

"They look such common lasses,
Those red pinks in a line;
The Rose is such a lady—
So dignified and fine.

"Here's one come from a garden
To die within this book;
See, in the faded features
The old lady-like look."

All of the great poets have sung of the Rose. Spenser calls it "the glory of the day." Burns wrote,

"Here's the flower that I love best—
The Rose that's like the snow."

Shakespeare mentions it frequently, and Keats sang to it. To Scott, Byron, Cowper and Wordsworth it was an inspiration. In fact, there is no great poet but made it the theme of their songs. Moore's "Last Rose of Summer" is an immortal poem.

"'Tis the last Rose of summer
Left blooming alone,
All her lovely companions
Are faded and gone.
No flower of her kindred,
No rose-bud is nigh,
To reflect back her blushes
And give sigh for sigh.

"I'll not leave thee, thou loved one,
To pine on the stem,
Since the lonely are sleeping,
Go sleep thou with them.
Thus kindly I scatter
Thy leaves on the bed,
Where the mates of the garden
Lie scentless and dead."

Native Shrubs.—The Spring is an excellent time to transplant shrubs, especially those found in the woods, such as Dogwood, Crab-apple, Sumach, Wild Rose, Quaking Asp, and Prickly Ash. As nearly as possible select a like position and like soil when you remove these plants. Their after-growth will thank you. I would especially recommend Wild Crab-apple, Wild Rose, Dogwood and Sumach. The objection to the latter is its propensity for sprouting, but this can be kept down. These all grow wild near the central parts of Indiana and Illinois, but unless they are protected or removed to lawns they will soon become very scarce, consequently rare.

Hydrangea paniculata.—Hydrangea paniculata is one of our best shrubs. With me it is perfectly hardy, though I put a bottomless nail keg over it the first winter. Planted at the north-east corner of the house it has plenty of sunlight, and not too intense heat of the sun. I imagine it needs plenty of water. The flowers are a pale, delicate green at first, but grow larger and whiter, like the Snowball. After a month or six weeks they acquire a pink tint which gives them a peculiar appearance. The clusters are conical, and one on my bed this year was sixteen inches in circumference. It blooms when flowers are scarce. I can recommend it heartily.

Crepe Myrtle.—I want to speak a word for the Crepe Myrtle. It is hardy in the south, and very beautiful, with its crepe-like flowers, which begin to open in early summer and continue till frost. You have only to plant once in a lifetime. It grows ten feet tall. In portions of Africa it is said to grow to large trees and is much used for fuel. There are many colors, but the pink and crimson are more commonly seen here.

THE YELLOW ROSE.

Oh, first sweet rose of summer,
With golden petals fair,
With dark and serrate foliage,
And fragrance rich and rare.

Thou art a flower of promise,
Oh, first-born rose of June!
For all thy sister Roses,
With lovely garments on,

Are coming, quickly coming,
To gladden us awhile.
Oh Roses, lovely Roses,
Ye are the Father's smile!

ROSES.

No matter how many flowers one may have, there is always room for one more Queen of Flowers. Now and then we come across some kind for which the florist has little to say, and it proves of special merit to us. Madam Joseph Schwartz is not so very highly recommended by florists, but has proved a perfect gem. The plant is a very vigorous grower, with large flowers, perfectly double and exquisitely sweet. In color it is very dainty, pure white tinged and shaded with yellow and rosy blush. This is a beautiful Rose, and a constant and profuse bloomer, and one of the most vigorous growing Roses I have ever seen. My plant is about six years old, five feet in height, and a very large bush, and nearly always in bloom.

Isabella Sprunt is an old Rose, and a very valuable one. This is a bright canary yellow, with exquisitely shaped, long, pointed buds. It is a vigorous grower, and does equally well as a pot plant or bedded out.

Snapdragons.—I had some Snapdragons this year for the first time, and I will never be without them again. Last year I planted them, but the season was so dry they did not bloom. I wintered them in the cellar. In the spring I planted them in ground enriched by manure, and hoed them well, and the first of June I had a lovely sight. They were so big, and of all colors. Mrs. Ida Comegys.

Wapello Co., Iowa.

[NOTE.—Snapdragon plants started in June, or that have not exhausted themselves blooming the first season will endure the winter in the open ground and bloom freely the following season. The new, large-flowered fragrant varieties are much superior to the old-fashioned dull-colored sorts.—ED.]

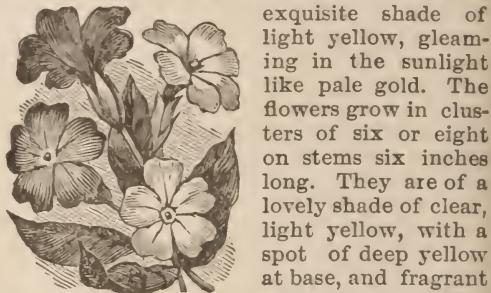

Hardy Grasses.—If you wish a clump of grasses which will elicit many encomiums have a solid green Fountain Plant (Eulalia zebrina) and Phalaris picta (Ribbon Grass) surrounding it. Once planted it is always certain to live.

ABOUT HARDY PRIMROSES.

READING of the Improved Hardy Garden Primrose in the Floral Magazine, I am reminded that Hardy Primroses are growing in my garden. Indeed, they have been a fixture there for many years, and though not of the late improved varieties, they, when in bloom, present an attractive, interesting and beautiful appearance. A border, thirty-two feet long, in my garden, has a wide edging of the single, yellow Primula, which is now a perfect mass of bloom of an exquisite shade of light yellow, gleaming in the sunlight like pale gold. The flowers grow in clusters of six or eight on stems six inches long. They are of a lovely shade of clear, light yellow, with a spot of deep yellow at base, and fragrant with a fragrance like apple blossoms.

Another border is edged with "Hose-in-Hose". The plants form rosettes of crinkled leaves, which are beautiful, especially so when the rich, velvety flowers are in bloom. They harmonize exquisitely with the deep green of the crinkled leaves. The flowers are double, appearing as two flowers, one stuck within the other. The buds are a deep, rich, velvety red. The flowers when expanded are red on the outside and pale yellow within, edged with the same red, and a deep yellow at base. The effect is singularly rich and attractive. These come into bloom a little later than the others. I have, also, two other varieties of Primula, a single white and a double white, double like a Daisy. These plants are all exceedingly hardy.

Hollyhocks.—The Double Hollyhocks are greatly to be desired, but few know how pleasing an effect a group of the single mixed ones will produce, if allowed to spread at their own sweet will for a year or two. We have such a group, and it truly is a graceful spot when the wind sways the tall stalks. Some are more than ten feet tall. To be sure one would not wish them right by the front door, but for an out-of-the-way corner, or against an old building, they harmonize so well. Try and be convinced.

OSTROWSKIA MAGNIFICA.

THE gorgeous perennial recently introduced from Bokhara under the name of Ostrowskia magnifica has been favorably received and highly praised by the English and German florists, and it will doubtless prove a valuable acquisition to our list of hardy perennial flowers in America. It is a near relative of the Campanula, and might be termed the Giant Bellflower of Bokhara. The plants of this grand floral novelty grow from three to four feet high, bearing large, fleshy, deeply cut leaves dispersed in whorls around the stem. The seeds are much larger than those of Campanula, and are not so prompt in germinating as those of many of that genus. The plants, too, develop rather slowly, and unless the conditions are favorable they are not likely to bloom until the third season, when the plants become strong and well established. When the flowers do appear, however, they will repay our patience in waiting, for they are very attractive. Imagine the beauty of a huge bell-shaped flower six inches in diameter, as represented in the engraving, drooping in bud but developing into an open and erect flower, delicate in texture, and displaying shades varying from lilac to rich dark purple, and you have a faint conception of this giant bell-flower.

In attempting the cultivation of any new flower it is well not to be too enthusiastic. Disappointments often arise from lack of knowledge of the plant and its requirements, and we have often to become acquainted with the flowers to recognize their true value. The beauty of this new candidate for our gardens and its adaptability seem to recommend it to those who love hardy garden plants, and it deserves a trial. The seeds may be sown this month to become blooming plants the second or third season. When once established the plants, it is said, will last for many years. Awarded a first-class certificate by the Royal Horticultural Society.

Trained Petunias.—Many people do not know that Petunias can be trained up. When I transplant from the seed bed, I set the plants about six inches from a paling fence that divides my front yard from our vegetable garden, and in places where I want a high screen of beauty. Then, as they grow, I keep the branches all cut off but four or five, drive a stake firmly in the ground beside each one, tying loosely to the stake. It is well to start with a long stake, for they will grow rapidly, and soon begin to bloom, and are a mass of large velvet bloom till cut down by Jack Frost. I had many that reached six feet in height this season, and my fence was literally hidden with bloom.

Many of my friends could not believe the Petunias I had were not some new climbing variety. They did the climbing, and I tied them up once a week, as they have no tendrils to hold them up, only as you tie them. Give them rich soil, and you could not wish for finer flowers than you'll have.

Floral Poetry.

IN THE MEADOW.

Down in the meadow, pure and fragrant,
Where the grass grows green and sweet,
And the sparrow sings so sweetly
In its leafy green retreat;
Where the Cowslip and the Daisy
Star the earth with tender bloom,
And the Goldenrod in autumn
Waves its slender yellow plume.

Often down this well-worn foot path,
When the cares of day were o'er,
Have I passed with leisure footstep,
Dreaming of the days of yore;
Gay companions wandered with me,
Every heart with joy elate;
Dreaming dreams of future greatness,
When we came to man's estate.

All the air was filled with sunshine,
And the earth was decked with flowers;
And the birds sang in the tree tops,
All the golden summer hours.
Now I wander sad and lonely,
And my heart is filled with pain;
Through the meadow, by the brookside,
Dreaming those sweet dreams again.

Gone are all my gay companions,
Scattered, sundered far and wide;
Gone the happy dreams of childhood,
And the bounding heart of pride.
Yet the air is full of sunshine,
And the birds sing in the trees,
And the fragrant breath of Clover
Floats upon the passing breeze.

And the brook among the grasses,
Sings its olden song so sweet;
And the Cowslip and the Daisy
Still my wandering vision greet.
All the air is full of gladness,
And the earth with flowers is gay;
And I find 'mid all this brightness,
Only I am changed today.

SPRING.

When the roseate sunny summer
Is queen o'er wood and fell,
And the merry light-winged zephyrs
Their love to the Roses tell;
When the dewdrops lie on the Lilies,
And shine in the grasses green,
O, then we say of the season fair
Our favorite is the Queen.

And, then comes the splendid autumn,
The Prince of the leafy wold,
With coronet of topaz, and
With scepter and throne of gold;
And these may be more lovely
Than the pearly winter snow,
Than the flashing, frosty jewels
In the wintry sun's pale glow.

But, today as I wandered, looking
To see where the snows were gone,
I saw a film of emerald
Over the field and lawn,
And I heard the blue-birds singing
And the lark's clear message ring,
And I said "She is fairer than all the rest,
The radiant sun-kiss'd Spring."

MY OLD-FASHIONED GARDEN.

O the dainty, white Sweet Peas,
With their lovely, waxen bloom,
Glowing brightly in the sunshine,
Lighting up the days of gloom.

Here the sleepy Poppy ladies,
With such rich and varied hues,
Slumberous incense from them falling,
Telling strange dreams to the dews.

Bright Nasturtiums, gaily blowing,
On a red or yellow horn,
Calling up the Morning Glories
Just in time to greet the morn.

And the piquant Pansy blossoms,
None more full of charm and grace,
And the Daisies, low and modest,
Nodding softly in their place.

Tulips, too, shall share my garden,
Though one Sister, sad of mind,
Bitterly condemns their colors,
"Hating" all their "flaunting" kind.

"Flaunting!" with such lovely colors!
Sister U. would surely say
That old sun, in golden splendor,
Is a little bit too gay.

They are all just as God made them,
Some so delicate and sweet,
Others like bright Tulips, surely
Can but cheer the sight they meet.

FLOWERS FROM HOME.

'Twas but a box of blossoms sweet,
Culled with loving thought of him,
Filled with kindest wish, and purest,
While her eyes he knew were dim.
Dim with haunting fear unspoken,
While with prayers her heart o'erflowed.
Ah, there is no love like mother's
On us mortals here bestowed.

As he gazed they filled the office
With their perfume free from sin,
And they hushed his spirit's tumult,
And the city's noise and din.
He could feel the benediction
Of his mother's loving hand,
As it rested on his temples
"Darling, for the right e'er stand."

O, how seldom he remembered,
O, how dark his schemes stood out
In the light of that sweet spirit,
Shed somehow the room about.
Just a little box of blossoms,
Sent by mother's loving hand,
But it filled a day with sweetness,
And a heart with purpose grand.

GUESS!

Violets and Buttercups,
Daisies and Clover,
Sweet-scented breezes sigh low as they pass;
Blue skies above us,
Dear ones to love us,
Shy, nodding flow'rs deep in the tall grass.
Guess which month it is that brings
All these dear, delightsome things!

Bulbous Flowers.

IMPROVEMENT IN GLADIOLUS.

I AM glad to see the article in the March Magazine on the Gladiolus, as I am quite an enthusiast on this flower and would like to urge its cultivation. I consider it the most satisfactory flower for cutting of all that are grown. If the spikes are cut when the first flowers appear and placed in water all the buds will open, blooming continuously for a week or ten days. They have no unpleasant odor and do not fall to pieces. As an amateur I have made quite a specialty of the Gladiolus for several years. No flower has been more improved in late years, and most people have no idea of what fine Gladioli look like. The old common red one multiplies rapidly but is so inferior that I cannot allow room for one on my grounds.

Mrs. Mitchell is mistaken with regard to the Childsi section. I have cultivated several varieties for six or eight years—Mrs. Beecher, Mohonk, Henry Gillman, Wm. Falconer, Ethel and others. They have very strong, stiff stems and, while they do not increase rapidly by direct multiplication, they have a good number of large offsets and I have got up a good stock. This strain lacks light colors.

Another mistake is the statement that the Lemoinei have taken the place of the Gandavensis. They do form a valuable addition, having peculiar colors and markings, but they are mostly smaller, often somewhat hooded in form, bloom early and have a great many offsets or bulblets. But by far the most valuable addition are Groff's Hybrids. These were produced by H. H. Groff of Ontario, who has spent fifteen years in hybridizing, buying and testing hundreds of European varieties some costing $3.00 to $5.00 each, but rejecting everything which showed weakness. He has also used wild species and aimed especially at vigor of constitution, substance of petals and variety and beauty of coloring. He rejects wholly the naming system which he says has been a damage. His success may be judged by the fact that in 1900 his first introduction was awarded by the Society of American Florists the premium over the whole Childsi collection, which had been selling at five cents to $1.00 a bulb. In 1901 I bought fifty of his second introduction and only two were alike. I planted them very late, May 22, and it was a terribly hot season, but all bloomed, though the corms were small, and some had four stalks. The increase in number of bulbs was fifty per cent and there was an astonishing number of bulblets. The second year one corm produced three large ones, and by actual count over three hundred bulblets. Of the bulblets grown in 1901 four bloomed last year. In 1902 I purchased fifty of the light colored section of his Gold Medal strain and had some wonderfully beautiful flowers. I may seem to be advertising Mr. Groff, but his Gladiolus are now offered by all leading seedsmen. I also bought one hundred of his first introduction one-half inch in diameter and, to my surprise, nearly all flowered and produced good sized corms and many offsets.

Among the Gandavensis sorts which can be had for twenty-five or thirty cents per dozen, are Augusta, Ceres, Mad. Monneret and May, light colors; Gen. Phil. Sheridan and Napoleon III red; and do not omit Couquette, a deep pink with two good rows of flowers and a white blotch on lower petals. Snow White is not tall but has two good rows of medium size flowers opening nearly all at once. For yellow, Isaac Buchanan. Canary Bird is still better but costs a little more.

Geo. S. Woodruff.

Buchanan Co., Iowa, Mar. 24, 1903.

[Note.—Gladiolus bloom well in autumn planted this month. Set five inches deep, and the sun will not hurt the plants, nor will they require staking.—Ed.]

Tulips and Iris.—I have a bed of Tulips edged with Iris. The bed is four feet in diameter, and has been a blaze of color since the 8th of April; when the first blooms opened. I counted 225 beautiful Iris blossoms open at one time, although they have been planted there only about a year. The Iris is an early-flowering variety with purple flowers and grows about eight inches high. The delicate, yet showy blooms contrast well with the gaudy colors of the Tulips.

DOCTOR ON FOOD

Experimented on Himself.

A physician of Galion, O., says: "For the last few years I have been a sufferer from indigestion and although I have used various remedies and prepared foods with some benefit it was not until I tried Grape-Nuts that I was completely cured.

"As a food it is pleasant and agreeable, very nutritious and is digested and assimilated with very little effort on the part of the digestive organs. As a nerve food and restorer it has no equal and as such is especially adapted to students and other brain workers. It contains the elements necessary for the building of nerve tissue and by so doing maintains an equilibrium of waste and repair.

"It also enriches the blood by giving an increased number of red blood corpuscles and in this way strengthens all the organs, providing a vital fluid made more nearly perfect. I take great pleasure in recommending its use to my patients for I value it as a food and know it will benefit all who use it." Name furnished by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

JUNE.

Over all the summer firmness
In the golden afternoon,
And o'er the tender rareness
Smile the radiant skies of June;

The robins' joyful singing
Seems like notes from Angels' harps
Their way to heaven winging.

THE FLOWER CAMPAIGN.

THE spring campaign among the flowers is at hand. All the earth is radiant. There is unwritten music upon the breeze, by the brookside, in the wooded aisles, and birds and bees sing to the blossoming trees. Buttercups and Daisies star the green grass. Leaves are unfolding and flowers are blowing. The gardens are craving attention. The plants already there may be doing well enough, but there is room for more. Every spring the gardens must be refilled, reclothed and adorned with some unique and attractive features, exceeding any other season. There is an embarrassment of riches to choose from. No one garden can have everything. Some favorites must, of necessity, be rejected. Flowers that bloom Spring, Summer and Fall, beautiful at every stage, and Cannas of the improved strains, are the beacon lights of the garden. Coleus in variety enliven a flower frieze as much as the gayest flowers. The colors are deeper and richer as Summer wanes and Autumn comes with frost fall and chilling winds.

Beds.—For a circular bed Dwarf Morning Glories (Convolvulus minor) and Nasturtiums, with Cannas, Caladiums or Double Petunias for center, and Dwarf Asters and white Candytuft for border make a showy bed. Another that will remind us of our grandmother, and makes a rich display that can be seen from afar, is a round bed with African Marigold, French Marigold and Calliopsis bordered with Tagetes signata pumila or Calendula. For carpeting, Sanvitalia with its double, daisy-yellow blossoms is very pretty, and covers waste places where other more tender annuals would not do well.

Maturing Late Seeds.—If you have any special seeds you want to save, and are afraid the frost will get them, leave on as long as you can, then cut the best matured flowers, put the stems in a glass of water and set in a window where the sun will shine through the glass upon them. They will mature and come up when planted in the spring.

CRIMSON RAMBLER ROSE.

THE Crimson Rambler Rose has proved a success with us. The first year it did not bloom, the next year, when it did bloom the clusters were small and a light pink color, and failed in so many points in not coming up to the standard set for it by florists generally, that we were completely discouraged. From that on we let it take care of itself, which it did by making a growth of something like ten feet, reaching out in all directions, as it was not staked. Last Spring for the sake of appearances we tied it up after trimming out some, and how it did surprise us. The end of twigs, large and small, was crowded with clusters of the most beautiful roses. In some of the bunches there were as many as ninety-three roses and buds. The color, too, was a dark crimson. The blooms remained perfect a surprising length of time, holding their color until the very last. Evidently this is one of the Roses that must be acclimated before it can be seen at its best. If it were only a true perpetual, would it not be grand?

MEAL TIME CONSCIENCE.

What Do the Children Drink?

There are times when mother or father feeds the youngsters something that they know children should not have. Perhaps it is some rich dessert but more often it is tea or coffee. Some compromise by putting in so much hot water that there is not much tea or coffee left but even that little is pretty certain to do harm. It leads to bigger doses. Then come the coffee ills.

It is better to have some delicious, hot, food drink that you can take yourself and feed to your children conscious that it will help and strengthen and never hurt them. A lady of Oneida, N. Y., says: "I used coffee many years in spite of the conviction that it injured my nervous system and produced my nervous headaches. While visiting a friend I was served with Postum but it was not well made, still I determined to get a package and try it myself and after following directions carefully the result was all that could be desired; a delicious, finely flavored, richly colored beverage. Since I quit coffee Postum has worked wonders for me.

"My husband who always suffered from kidney trouble when drinking coffee quit the coffee and took up Postum with me and since drinking Postum he has felt stronger and better with no indication of kidney trouble.

"You may be sure I find it a great comfort to have a warm drink at meals that I can give my children with a clear conscience that it will help them and not hurt them as coffee or tea would." Name furnished by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

CHOICE PRIMROSES.

For Window and Garden. Sow the seeds this month.

Primrose, Mallow-leaved, 4 pkts. 10c, 1 pkt. 3c.
Fern-leaved, Splendid, mixed, 4 pkts. 10c, 1 pkt. 3c.
Chinese, Double, mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 pkt. 3c.
Large-flowered Obconica, mx'd., 4 pkts. 10c, 1 pkt. 3c.
Forbesi, Baby Primrose, mixed, 4 pkts. 10c, 1 pkt. 3c.
Farinosa, Bird's-eye Primrose, 4 pkts. 10c, 1 pkt. 3c.
Auricula, finest mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 pkt. 3c.
Japonica, in splendid mixture, 4 pkts. 10c, 1 pkt. 3c.
Viscosa, Clammy Primrose, 4 pkts. 10c, 1 packet 3c.
Cashmeriana, mixed, 4 packets 10 cents, 1 packet 3c.

All of these, 20 packets, only 50 cents. For descriptions and culture see Primrose Booklet, also the following notes upon the different sorts.

Primula chinensis.—These are decidedly the best of winter-blooming plants. Anybody can grow them, and they are absolutely sure to bloom—freely and continuously throughout the winter. The fine sorts, as Mallow-leaved, Fern-leaved and Double-flowered are desirable, all having large, fringed flowers in big clusters, and showing rich colors from white to glowing crimson.

Primula Obconica.—I offer only the large-flowered plain and fringed varieties of this grand, improved Primrose. They are easily and quickly grown, sure to bloom in winter, and very showy and beautiful.

Primula Forbesi.—This is the Baby Primrose, exquisite in delicacy and beauty, and always in bloom. It is a charming little pot plant.

Primula Farinosa.—A lovely sort known as Birds-eye Primrose. The plants are hardy, bloom freely in early summer, and the flowers purple, rose and crimson with yellow eye.

Primula Auricula.—Large and showy flowers in clusters. A splendid pot plant, very attractive, and showing many rich combinations of color. My seeds are of unsurpassed quality.

Primula Japonica.—A grand hardy perennial. Foliage in a rosette, from which small scapes issue bearing from three to six fine whorls of many-hued flowers. A splendid Primrose.

Primula Viscosa.—A charming hardy Primrose from the Pyrenees. Blooms in early summer, the flowers being rose-purple with white eye, coming in large clusters. Very handsome sort.

Primula Cashmeriana.—One of the finest of hardy Primroses, found in the Himalaya Mountains; flowers white, blue and violet, in dense heads, produced from April till June.

Primrose, Gold-laced, 4 pkts. 10c, 1 pkt. 3c.
Denticulata, special mixture, 4 packets 10c, 1 pkt. 3c.
Floribunda, golden yellow, 4 packets 10c, 1 pkt. 3c.
Rosea, Kashmir Primrose, 4 packets 10c, 1 pkt. 3c.
Cortusoides, from Siberia, 4 packets 10c, 1 pkt. 3c.

CHILDREN'S CORNER.

Dear Mr. Park:—I am nine years old, and in the fourth grade. I have a sister named Ruth. For pets I have a kitten, a game bantam rooster and two little hens, and a dear little green parrot named Patsy, which a sailor cousin brought from Venezuela in South America. He can spell his name very cunningly, besides saying many other things. I love him best of all my pets. Mama has taken your Magazine many years. We like to read the Children's Corner.

FOUND HER FORTUNE IN THE STARS

The Wonderful History of a Young Woman Who Raised Herself from Poverty to Wealth

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 15.—The people of this city are wondering over the romantic story told by Miss Catherine Benoit, of 61 Pineapple Street, formerly a factory girl in this place at a salary of $3.00 a week, now a wealthy young woman and a prospective bride.

Telling her story to a reporter, she said: "Some time ago I saw an announcement in a paper which said that any one could have their fortune told free by corresponding with an astrologer in New York State, and one time while I was talking with some girls in the factory I told them about it. They laughed at me, and we all agreed it was a humbug, but in a spirit of jest I wrote to the astrologer to tell my fortune. He sent me my horoscope as he agreed, typewritten especially for me, without charge, and it certainly contained some wonderful things. He told me some remarkable things about my past, which I did not believe any one else living knew about, as well as several forecasts about the future which came true. I corresponded with him further and he laid the future before me like an open book. Among the other things he told me was that I would receive a legacy from a relative I did not know about, and that this would come to me by a trip to Boston. I did not expect at that time to go to Boston, but acting on a suggestion in the horoscope which said I would be lucky in lotteries, I took a ticket in a church bazaar which won me quite a beautiful prize. I sold the prize and in company with a friend took a trip to Boston, where I accidentally found a gentleman who turned out to be a relative of my mother's. He died some weeks afterward, leaving me the bulk of his fortune, which amounted to quite a large sum of money. Naturally, my experience got talked about, and I was introduced to the gentleman whom I am to marry next week. Of course, I feel very happy, but I hope you will not write up any sensation in the paper about me. The astrologer from whom I received my horoscope is Prof. Edison, of Binghamton, N. Y. He is truly a remarkable man, and convinced me thoroughly that he is an accomplished astrologer and knows what he is talking about. He has also sent free horoscopes to several of my friends, and they all say he is truly wonderful. I think everybody ought to write to him, as they would doubtless get information which would do them good."

Further investigation of the story told by Miss Catherine Benoit reveals the fact that Prof. Edison, of Binghamton, has been an astrologer for a number of years, and that he offers to send a free horoscope, revealing the past and future of any one, free of charge, if they will but send him a 2-cent stamp to pay postage. Although it is true that a number of people do not believe in astrology, it appears that even in Binghamton, his own town, he has made people realize that it is indeed a science.

Any one interested in making their future successful and in knowing what their future contains should write to Prof. Edison immediately. He will send this free horoscope at once, without any charge, which will reveal the future certainly and without failure. He will tell you the history of your life from the cradle to the grave, what you can expect as your share of happiness and what is likely to come to you in unhappiness, unless you are in a position to avoid it. Therefore, write at once, enclosing a 2-cent stamp for postage, and a horoscope will be sent by return mail, free of charge. Address your letter to Prof. Edison, Avenue 1F, Binghamton, N. Y.

MOST WONDERFUL KEROSENE OIL STOVE MADE

FAR BETTER THAN GASOLINE, EQUAL TO GAS, SAFER AND CHEAPER THAN EITHER, SAFE AS WOOD OR COAL.

A wickless, odorless, blue flame, large high shelf, big oven, absolutely safe kerosene oil burning range. Does away with all the danger of gasoline stoves, which at the best are very dangerous to life and property; costs one-half as much to operate as a gasoline stove, much more simple to operate, less chance to get out of order, gives a more even and better heat, and as a baker is far superior. As simple as an ordinary house lamp and less dangerous; in fact, with this stove explosion is impossible, all danger is removed. Is just as safe as any wood or coal stove and any child can operate it.

This is a good big range and will take the place of your steel or cast iron range or cook stove and gives you a cool comfortable kitchen during the hot summer days. Stove top is 17 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches; height to main top, 36 inches; oven is 18 $\frac{1}{2}$ x 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ x 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches; 2 top burners and 1 oven burner. It is made of black japanned steel beautifully finished and decorated.

OUR 10 DAYS' FREE TRIAL OFFER: Our special offer price on this big kerosene oil, wickless range is $13.75, just enough to cover cost of material and labor with only our small profit added, about one-half the price of a dangerous gasoline stove that costs twice as much to run.

YOU CAN SEND US $13.75 or if you prefer, send us $1.00, balance, $12.75 and freight charges, payable after received, and in either case we will send this range to you with the understanding and agreement that you can give it ten days' free trial in your own home and if you do not find it perfectly satisfactory, worth a dozen of the best gasoline stoves made, as satisfactory a baker and cooker as you ever used and the easiest oil stove to handle you ever saw, you can return it at our expense and we will immediately return your money. Order at once, for at our SPECIAL OFFER PRICE OF $13.75 our factory may not be able to keep up with the orders later on.

WE ARE THE LARGEST STOVE DEALERS IN THE WORLD, our stove foundry is the LARGEST IN THE WORLD. We make and sell all kinds of kerosene oil, also steel and cast iron wood and coal burning ranges, cook stoves and heaters, and all at about ONE-HALF THE PRICES CHARGED BY OTHERS.

OUR FREE STOVE CATALOGUE illustrates and describes all the stoves we make, explains our liberal terms of shipment, our binding guarantee, our many liberal offers, and contains a big picture of our stove foundry, the largest foundry in the world. OUR STOVE CATALOGUE IS FREE FOR THE ASKING. Address,

CORRESPONDENCE.

Mr. Park:—For foliage I like the Caladium or "Elephant's Ear". It is hardy, and grows easily for me. I have never cultivated it in the ground, but it grows to an enormous size in pots. It makes a fine background for a winter window garden by repotting a small one about the midsummer, so it will not get too large. I find it takes frequent waterings. Once our plant put up a center stalk and a bloom appeared on the top, something in color like the Rhubarb, but of a coarser nature. Last June I obtained a cutting of a beautiful white monthly Rose, and started it in sand and water. It has bloomed twice since starting it. It will do well in the ground in the summer, but I have it potted now. It is a beauty, and a prize for all flower lovers. My Sea Onions are hardy plants. They grow without an effort on the part of the keeper, if they only get moisture enough. To make a beautiful Onion, I keep all the little sets which form about the root pulled off, and never allow it to bloom. For a winter-blooming nothing is more beautiful than an Amaryllis. It is such a stately flower, and so rich in color. I find the plants require plenty of sunlight, and that a bulb one year old will not bloom; at least such has been my experience. Every one who can keep them over winter should have this thing of beauty.

Iris.—Most of the species of Iris require a moist or wet soil, and will do well in moderate shade. Our native Iris in Pennsylvania is found in swampy places, often in bogs partly submerged in water. The florists usually offer clumps or bulbs of Iris in autumn. The German and Dwarf species, having creeping roots, are the hardier, but nearly all of the kinds are hardy in congenial quarters.

Dear Mr. Park:—I am a little girl seven years of age. I go to school in the spring, but I have to stay home all winter, for I am very delicate, and take cold so easily, so I study at home. I read in the Fourth Reader, study history, geography, arithmetic and spelling. I have no brothers or sisters to play with, but I am very fond of dolls. I have five dolls, a little gray kitten, and a pair of lovely bantams; so with all of these I can pass the time very pleasantly.

DEAFNESS CURED

Louisville Man Originates a Simple Little Device that Instantly Restores the Hearing—Fits Perfectly, Comfortably, and Does Not Show.

190-PAGE BOOK FREE TELLS ALL ABOUT IT.

Since the discovery of a Louisville man it is no longer necessary for any deaf person to carry a trumpet, a tube or any such old-fashioned device, for it is now possible for anyone to hear perfectly by a simple invention that fits in the ear and cannot be detected. The honor belongs to Mr. George H. Wilson of Louisville, who was himself deaf, and now hears as well as anyone. He calls it Wilson's Common Sense Ear Drum, is built on the strictest scientific principles, containing no metal of any kind, and is entirely new in every respect. It is so small that no one can see it, but nevertheless it collects all sound waves and diverts them against the drum head, causing you to hear perfectly. It will do this even when the natural ear drums are partially or entirely destroyed, perforated, scarred, relaxed or thickened. It fits any ear from childhood to old age, and aside from the fact that it does not show it never causes the wearer irritation, and can be used with comfort day or night.

It will cure deafness in any person, no matter how acquired, whether from catarrh, scarlet fever, typhoid or brain fever, measles, whooping cough, gathering in the ear, shocks from artillery, or through accidents. It not only cures but stays the progress of deafness and all roaring and buzzing noises. It does this in a simple, sure and scientific way. The effect is immediate.

Let every person who needs this at once send to the company for its 190-page book, which you can have free. It describes and illustrates Wilson's Common Sense Ear Drums and contains many bona-fide letters from numerous users in the United States, Canada, Mexico, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania, India. These letters are from people in every station in life—clergymen, physicians, lawyers, merchants, society ladies, etc.—and tell the truth about the benefits to be derived from the use of this wonderful little device; you will find among them the names of people in your own town or state, and you are at liberty to write to any of them you wish and secure their opinion as to the merits of the only scientific ear drums for restoring the hearing to its normal condition.

Write today and it will not be long before you are again hearing. Address, for the free book and convincing evidence, Wilson Ear Drum Co., 903 Todd Building, Louisville, Ky., U. S. A.

THIS IS A GENUINE PARISIAN PATTERN HAT, the most stylish and exclusive design for the spring and summer of 1903. A beautiful, tucked black silk chiffon hat, real hand made on a silk wire frame, a very becoming low shape, the very new-style, made of the best tucked black silk chiffon, slightly raised on the left side and drooping in the back. The trimming on the top consists of two large clusters of crushed muslin pink June roses and foliage effectively arranged on both sides of the brim. On either side of the brim in front are two cut steel cabochon buckles. The facing as well as the rolling brim is overlaid with closely tucked black silk chiffon, while the low crown is covered with a plaque of fancy lace straw braid. The entire hat is draped with a very elegant black silk chiffon veil, trimmed on the ends with three rows of fluted black silk, the same falling in graceful effect over the back. A large velvetta bandana garnished with crushed muslin pink June roses completes the trimming of this stunning hat. This New Stunning Parisian Pattern Hat is equally becoming to young and old, and carries a distinctiveness in style and workmanship such as can be had only from the hands of fashionable city milliners. You can tell at once it was never produced by any small city or town milliner. Can be ordered in black or any other color desired. Order today and wear the handsomest hat in your town. CENTRANTHUS MACROSIPHON.

blossoms, and are lovely anywhere. They are nice for winter blooming too. Every one ought to have some.

H. L. West.

Kings Co., Nova Scotia, Dec. 4, 1902.

NOTE.—It is not generally known that the Centranthus also blooms freely late in autumn, after most other plants have been destroyed by frost, especially if the plants are started during summer, at which time also, plants for winter blooming should be started. This showy annual is easily propagated from seeds and easily grown, and deserves more attention.—ED.

OLD FOLKS' CORNER.

Dear Mr. Park:—I am in my 82nd year, and have been a widow for 28 years. I have spent many a lonely hour, but have made companions of my plants, and they have cheered and comforted me in my lonely hours. I thank the Dear Lord for them, and for the many other blessings he is daily bestowing upon me. I have some nice flowering bulbs which are just coming up. I give extra copies of your Magazine to flower-loving friends.

Whence Comes This Mighty Healing Power.

All the Land Wonders at the Remarkable Cures effected by Professor Adkin.

HEALS DISEASES CALLED INCURABLE.

Ministers, Doctors and Professional Men Tell How He Has Cured the Blind, the Lame, the Paralytic and Many on the Very Brink of Death.

FREE HELP FOR THE SICK.

Professor Adkin Offers to Help All Sufferers from Any Disease Absolutely Free of Charge—Professional Men Investigate His Powers.

In all parts of the country men and women, doctors and surgeons, clergymen and educators, are wondering at the remarkable cures made by Professor Thomas F. Adkin, discoverer of the Adkin Vitaopathic treatment.

Prof. Adkin heals not by drugs, nor by Christian Science, nor by Osteopathy, nor by Hypnotism, nor by Divine Healing, but by a subtle psychic force of nature in combination with certain vital magnetic remedies which contain the very elements of life and health.

A reporter recently talked with Prof. Adkin and was asked to invite all readers of this paper who are sick or who are worried by the ills of those dear to them, to write to him for assistance. "Some people have declared," said Prof. Adkin, "that my powers are of God, they call me a Divine healer, a man of mysterious powers. This is not so, I cure because I understand nature, because I use the subtle force of nature, to build up the system and restore health. But at the same time I believe that the Creator would not have given me the opportunity to make the discoveries I have made or the ability to develop them, if He had not intended that I should use them for the good of humanity. I therefore feel that it is my duty to give the benefit of the science I practice to all who are suffering. I want you to tell your readers that they can write to me in the strictest confidence if they are troubled with any kind of disease, and I will thoroughly diagnose their case absolutely free of charge and explain by a simple guaranteed treatment how a complete cure should be effected. I care not how serious their cases, nor how hopeless they may seem, I want them to write to me and let me make them well. I feel that this is my life work."

So great is the sensation wrought in the medical world by the wonderful cures performed by Prof. Adkin, that several professional gentlemen were asked to investigate the cures. Among these gentlemen were Dr. L. B. Hawley and Dr. L. G. Doane, both famous physicians and surgeons. After a thorough and painstaking investigation these eminent physicians were so astounded at the far-reaching powers of Prof. Adkin, and the wonderful efficacy of Vitaopathy that they volunteered to forsake all other ties in life and all other kinds of treatment and devote themselves to assisting Prof. Adkin in his great work for humanity. With the discovery of the Adkin Vitaopathic treatment eminent physicians are generally agreed that the treatment of disease has at last been reduced to an exact science.

In all some 8,000 men and women have been cured by the powers of Prof. Adkin. Some were blind, some were lame, some were deaf, some were paralytics, scarcely able to move, so great was their infirmity. Others were afflicted with Bright's disease, heart disease, consumption, and other so-called incurable diseases. Some were sufferers from kidney trouble, dyspepsia, nervous debility, insomnia, neuralgia, constipation, rheumatism, female troubles, and other similar ills. Some were men and women addicted to drunkenness, morphine and other evil habits. In all cases Prof. Adkin treats, he guarantees a cure. Even those on the brink of the grave, with all hope of recovery gone and despaired of by doctors and friends alike, have been restored to perfect health by the force of Vitaopathy and Prof. Adkin's marvelous skill. And, remarkable as it may seem, distance has made no difference. Those living far away have been cured in the privacy of their own homes, as well as those who have been treated in person. Prof. Adkin asserts that he can cure any one at any distance as well as though he stood before them.

Not long ago John Adams, of Blakesbury, Ia., who had been lame for twenty years was permanently cured by Prof. Adkin without an operation of any kind. About the same time the city of Rochester, N. Y., was startled by the cure of one of its oldest residents, Mr. P. A. Wright, who had been partly blind for a long period. John E. Neff, of Millersburgh, Pa., who had suffered for years from a cataract over his left eye, was speedily restored to perfect sight, without an operation. From Logansport, Ind., comes the news of the recovery of Mrs. Mary Eicher, who had been practically deaf for a year, while in Warren, Pa., Mr. G. W. Savage, a noted photographer and artist, who was not only partially blind and deaf, but at death's door from a complication of diseases, was restored to perfect health and strength by Prof. Adkin.

Vitaopathy cures not one disease alone, but it cures all diseases when used in combination with the proper remedies. If you are sick, no matter what your disease nor who says you can not be cured, write to Prof. Adkin today; tell him the leading symptoms of your complaint, how long you have been suffering, and he will at once diagnose your case, tell you the exact disease from which you are suffering and prescribe the treatment that will positively cure you. This costs you absolutely nothing. Professor Adkin will also send you a copy of his marvelous new book entitled, "How to be Cured and How to Cure Others." This book tells you exactly how Professor Adkin will cure you. It fully and completely describes the nature of his wonderful treatment. It also explains to you how you yourself may possess this great healing power and cure the sick around you.

Professor Adkin does not ask one cent for his services in this connection. They will be given to you absolutely free. He has made a wonderful discovery, and he wishes to place it in the hands of every sick person in this country, that he may be restored to perfect health and strength. Mark your letter personal when you write, and no one but Professor Adkin will see it. Address Professor Thomas F. Adkin, Office 698 J, Rochester, N. Y.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Mr. Park:—It is always a temptation to get your flower seeds. Although living in this country where all the hills are carpeted with flowers of every hue and color, I must have a few of our old-time favorites. Washington is certainly a land of flowers and beautiful shrubs of all kinds. Clematis grows to the tops of tall trees. Real Mock Orange grows so high that the tallest person cannot reach the top branches. Pink Spirea, the plume sort, grows along the roadside. Oregon Grape has clusters of loveliest yellow flowers, and bulbous plants too numerous to mention grow everywhere. In April Magazine I read Mrs. Tucker's letter from Spokane Co., where she speaks of white Camassia being rare. There is a meadow in front of my door, full of the blue and also the white. This is an ideal place for a botanist if he wants variety. Within a few rods one can find seven or eight different kinds of yellow flowers, some like Sunflowers that bloom as soon as the leaves are out of the ground. I could write all day and then not tell half of the beauty that our Heavenly Father has bestowed upon this favored land of flowers and evergreens.

Mr. Park:—I want to tell of the success I have had with Fancy Coleus seeds. I have just potted twenty-three nice plants that are now three inches high which I raised from a three-cent pkt. of fine mixed Coleus seeds. Only two worthless plants among them, and many are very bright and beautiful, and different from any I have ever seen, no two alike among them. I have also seven nice Cyclamen plants from a three cent packet of seeds. The Lobelia, well it is simply grand and new to every one who sees it. It also was a three-cent packet of seeds.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Dear Mr. Park:—I have been much interested in the letters from the flower lovers all over the United States, but I have not seen any from the new country which was opened last fall. We live about thirty miles east of Lawton, which is the capitol of Comanche county. Lawton was one year old the fifth of last August and has a population of 10,000. When we came to this country from southern Kansas, on Feb. 1, 1902, we brought with us a large wagon load of home plants, but the first night it turned suddenly cold, and the house being unfinished they all froze. Out of the whole lot we saved but one Carnation and three Chrysanthemums. We missed the flowers at first very much, but being busy building and breaking the new ground, time soon slipped by. But, when spring opened there was a glad surprise in store for us. From the earliest violets until frost came, the 15th of November, we have had a regular procession of flowers. First came the Violet and Wind Daisies, covering the creek-banks and hill-sides with a solid color. These had hardly gone before their places were filled by the wild Hyacinths, beautiful waxy, sweet blossoms, and the Redbud, which made rich patches of color in the woods and along the creeks. The warm days of early May brought a perfect throng of blossoms—the wild Yellow Primrose, Alliums, Dandelions, wild Sweet Peas, Black Hawks, Button Willows, Larkspurs, Yuccas and a flower called the Prairie Bell, though I don't see any resemblance to a bell. It looks more like a long spike of pink and purple Perennial Pea. There are sometimes as many as fifteen to twenty spikes on one plant. The plants grow on rocky, exposed places, where nothing else will grow, and make perfect masses of pink and purple color. We found one bunch of white ones, but they are very rare. A little later in the summer there is a beautiful little diamond-shaped white flower which blooms in dainty bunches on slender stems. Another new flower to me is a blue, bell-shaped one which resembles the large blue Clematis flower in size and color, only it does not open out wide and grows on a low bush along the creeks. During the hot summer months the prairie is blue with the wild blue Sage. Another flower which resembles the scarlet sage grows in the low places. I nearly forgot the Coreopsis and the orange and lemon flowered Milkweed, and a kind of Wandering Jew with a lovely blue flower. But I believe the flower which interested me most was what is called down here the Rain Lily. It comes up in the spring and grows for some time, then dies clear down to the ground, and you think it is dead, but after the long dry summer has passed, and the first fall rain comes, about September 1st, you are surprised to see hundreds of beautiful white Lilies coming up out of the grass without a sign of a leaf. They last only about one day, which to me is their only fault. At the end of this floral procession comes the purple and white Aster, and the red and gold of the Wild Ivy and Oak Trees.

These are only a part of our beautiful wild flowers, for this is truly the home of the wild flowers. But as the ground is broken up they will become scarcer each year, and like many other beautiful wildlings will pass away forever.

Consumption Certainly Curable

No Such Word as Hopeless Now—Consumptives May Be of Good Heart and Courage—The Way to Health is Clear—Here is a Cure Offered FREE That Has Brought New Strength or Perfect Health to Hundreds, Among them Congressman Nelson Dingley's Son.

Don't Try to Run Away from Consumption—You Cannot—The Wiser, Safer Plan is to Stay at Home and Fight it Out—We Offer You Permanent Release, Not Temporary Relief—Remember There Is No Expense or Obligation Attached to the Offer of FREE Trial Treatment—If Afflicted Write to Company To-day.

O. K. BUCKHOUT.

Chairman of Kalamazoo Tuberculosis Remedy Co. (Ltd.); Member of British Tuberculosis Congress; Member of National Association for the Prevention of Consumption.

Consumption not only can be cured, but is being cured every day by Antidotum Tuberculosé. It is a home treatment that exterminates every germ and rebuilds, strengthens and revitalizes the entire system. The cures stand as proof. The hundreds Antidotum Tuberculosé has changed from shadows to strong men, from mere wisps of women into plump, full-chested maidens and matrons, the new lease of life for the thin, pale, hopeless sufferers in the very shadow of the tomb, form a wall of proof against which there can be no contention. There is hope—unbounded hope for all. Not false hope or vain delusions, but well-grounded belief in the certainty of a cure. Medical science does not stand still. It is advancing always. It is constantly correcting the mistakes and brushing aside the theories of yesterday. Just as certain as that germs are the cause of Consumption is it that the remedy that will kill these germs will cure it. Cure it, mind you, not relieve it, or lessen its pangs, but rid the system of it for good and all. That remedy is Antidotum Tuberculosé (a Trial Treatment of which is offered Free to every inquirer), the deadly enemy of the Consumption germ. If it were not all and more than is claimed for it, the company could never have won for its chairman, Mr. O. K. Buckhout, a member of the National Association for the Prevention of Consumption, of which H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, is president, Lord Leister, vice-president, and His Majesty, King Edward, of England, Honorary President. You know that all this misery, the hollow cough, the blood-spitting, night-sweats, weakness and wasting away result from colonies of deadly germs that cluster about your vitals and are literally eating away your life. The slightest symptom that tells of the presence of these germs is nature's warning, and should be instantly heeded. If you already have consumption, or merely fear that you are contracting the disease; if you have that horrible heritage—a death taint in the blood, which will sooner or later prove its presence—don't put off for a single day writing to the Kalamazoo Tuberculosis Remedy Co. (Ltd.) 381 Main St., Kalamazoo, Michigan, for the FREE trial treatment and the pain and comprehensive literature which they will gladly send you, all charges prepaid. Remember the trial treatment is absolutely FREE. It is your sacred duty to stop the encroachment of this terrible disease before it is too late. As you value life and health, write to-day.

GOSSIP.

Dear Flower Folks:—I will give my treatment of Calla, Coleus and Night-blooming Cereus. Callas.—I pot in the richest soil obtainable, preferably from the cow lot, and then give them hot water (of course not hot enough to scald the plant) two or three times a week, until all the soil is thoroughly wet. In June I turn the pot down and leave off watering, until the first of September; repot and treat as before. I have perfect success. Coleus.—Plant seeds in spring, in boxes and when the little plants get two true leaves transplant. They soon grow to be good sized plants. By transplanting two or three times during summer you can prevent their blooming, as the blooms are not pretty, and after blooming the plants die. So by preventing their blooming you can have them for foliage plants all winter in the pit or greenhouse. Night-blooming Cereus.—Give a large pot and moderately rich soil; water only when the soil is real dry. Always give plenty of root-room and you will have a fine blooming plant. Miss Lizzie Hodge.

Clarendon Co., S. C.

Dear Floral Friends:—My Chinese Primrose is lovely. It has a large bunch of pink blossoms. I love to watch the flowers come out, one by one. I shall have Primroses every year, they are so easy to make live, and do not need much sun. I think mine does better in the shade. Last summer my Gaillardia grandiflora began to bloom very early, and all summer the bed was a mass of bright red and yellow blossoms. When the heavy frosts came they were full of flowers and buds. I never saw anything like them, the more I cut them the more blossoms they produced. I have had a bed of Poppies for several years, and they are lovely. Some are single and some double, and so many different colors. After they go to seed I break off the seed pods and scatter the seeds over the bed, and early in the spring I have the bed dug over, and then they come up so thick I have to thin them out. After they are through blossoming I pull up the roots, and that makes room for Petunias, Larkspurs and a number of others that sow their seeds. Mrs. E. P. Butler.

Essex Co., Mass., Dec. 7, 1902.

Dear Floral Friends:—Impatiens Sultani is one of the freest blooming house plants I have ever had. It grows rapidly, and when trimmed properly is a handsome plant, with its light green leaves, clear stems and bright pink blossoms. Give it plenty of water and warmth, and it will flourish. Young plants may be readily started from seeds or slips. Bessie Staples.

Pettis Co., Mo., Dec. 2, 1902.

A Chance to Make Money.

I have berries, grapes and peaches a year old, fresh as when picked. I used the California Cold Process. Do not heat or seal the fruit, just put it up cold, keeps perfectly fresh, and costs almost nothing; can put up a bushel in 10 minutes. Last year I sold directions to over 120 families in one week; anyone will pay a dollar for directions when they see the beautiful samples of fruit. As there are many people poor like myself, I consider it my duty to give my experience to such and feel confident anyone can make one or two hundred dollars round home in a few days. I will mail sample of fruit and full directions to any of your readers for nineteen (19) 2-cent stamps, which is only the actual cost of the samples, postage, etc. FRANCIS CASEY, St. Louis, Mo.

THE SECRET TOLD.

All the birds are in tune and the springtime is here, While all nature is brimming with hearty good cheer; Then let us be merry and cast gloom away, And reflect on our faces the sunshine today.

See the buds are now swelling and ready to burst; They are running a race to see which gets out first; The Lilacs are fragrant as fragrant can be, And the Catkins are hanging from many a tree.

Hear the voice of the rill as it sings on its way; There is many a mile it must cover today, To fill up the river, the mill-wheel to turn, To water the Violet, Cowslip and Fern.

Now come, dearie, hold up your pretty plump chin, Here's the first yellow buttercup; down deep within A secret lies hidden. Come, own up, confess, Ar'n't you quite fond of butter? the flower says yes.

ACACIA LOPHANTHA.

I started a three-cent packet of seeds of Acacia lophantha last spring, and have several beautiful plants, one two feet high. I prize them very much, and they are admired by every one who sees them. Are they long-lived, and how old are the plants when they first bloom?

Mrs. R. Turner.

Union Co., Ohio, Feb. 9, 1903.

[NOTE.—Acacia lophantha is one of the most beautiful, fern-like plants we have, either for a pot in the window or a shady bed in the garden. It is easily propagated from seeds, and makes a fine appearance when only a few months old. When properly treated the flowers will appear the second year, though young seedlings are often preferable to older plants. The plants are long-lived and will grow from six to twenty feet high. Shift frequently to avoid cramping the roots, which causes the leaves to turn yellow and drop off.—ED.]

Rheumatism Cured Through the Feet.

No Medicine Required—External Remedy Which Gives Immediate Relief.

MAILED ON APPROVAL.

TRY IT FREE.

We want everyone who has rheumatism to send us his or her name. We will send by return mail a trial pair of Magic Foot Drafts, the wonderful external cure which has brought more comfort into the State of Michigan than any internal remedy ever made. If they give relief, send us One Dollar; if not, don't send us a cent.

Magic Foot Drafts are worn on the soles of the feet without the least inconvenience, and cure by drawing out and absorbing the poisonous acids in the blood as a sponge absorbs water. They cure rheumatism in every part of the body, no matter how long the sufferer may have been afflicted. We have been sending these Drafts everywhere on approval for many months. It must be evident to you that we couldn't keep this up if the Drafts didn't cure. Don't you think the evidence is strong enough in their favor to warrant you sending us your name? Write to-day to the Magic Foot Draft Co., 691 Oliver Bldg., Jackson, Mich., for a trial pair of Drafts on approval. We send also a valuable booklet on Rheumatism free, which tells in plain language the causes of rheumatism, and tells how to cure it in your own home to stay cured forever. Don't suffer needlessly, but get a pair of the Drafts onto your feet as soon as the mails can bring them and be well and happy once more. Write to-day.

TO THE FIRST ROBIN.

How pleasant is thy voice to hear,
First bird of coming spring so dear,
You drive away the winter's blast,
And bring the bright warm sun at last.
Thy friend the blue bird comes before,
I welcome him, but thee much more.
Thy music is of heavenly mirth,
A presage of the season's birth,
Begining with thy solo voice
Thy comrades gather and rejoice
Until the season's anthems swell
Like a chorus of Cathedral bells.
Oh come, sweet herald of early spring,
We love the prophecy you sing;
It tells us of the coming green,
And coming bloom in colored sheen.
Oh come and stay with us alway,
Sweet herald of the better day.

Mr. Park:—We have been taking your Magazine for a number of years, but as we have moved from Chester Co., Pa., to Mayo, Md., we have not had one of your Magazines. Mamma has sent you in lots of clubs. I am eleven years old, and in the sixth grade in school. I live on a large farm. Our nearest neighbor is the son of the great inventor, Edison. I live along the Chesapeake Bay. We have two dogs that go and bring in the cattle, and sit up and beg for their food. Their names are Carlo and Sport. I have a large Maltese cat twelve years old. We have a large flower garden, and have lots of Roses and other pretty flowers in it. I am very fond of flowers, and like to care for them. We have a large green-room and have many pretty flowers in it. My mother is fond of flowers. Eva Collison.

Dear Mr. Park:—I am a little girl eight years old. I live four miles from the ocean. We went down to the beach May Day and I went in bathing, and papa barbecued some meat for dinner. The way to barbecue meat is to dig a small trench and put some wood in it, and when the wood is burned to coals, place rods across with small pieces of meat on. In an hour the meat will be done. We cook meat that way at nearly all our picnics. Lenora Clark.

THE OLD GARDEN.

I know of a haunted garden where the old-time flowers grow;
There are Hollyhocks and Lilies in a long and stately row;
There are Lilac trees by the gateway, and Roses white and red,
And the Southern Wood's spicy fragrance follows the ceaseless tread.
A memory-haunted garden, out of life's busy way,
Where the spell of vanished summers lingers the livelong day.
The hands that planted these flowers have moldered back to dust,
But their hearts were true and steadfast, and their souls are saved, I trust.
The memories of the old time I never can forget,
And oft in silence tears will flow, and my pillows with them wet.
Ah, happy childhood and mother dear are now a thing of the past,
But the flowers sweet I love them still, and will while life shall last.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Mr. Park:—I raised some Cannas from seeds last year. I soaked the seeds in hot water, and though planted rather late, still they bloomed fine in September. At the sides of each plant a number of shoots or "suckers" grew out. Should I separate these from the main plant now, or should it have been done last spring, as soon as they appeared? —Mrs. Carr, Neb., Apr. 25, 1903.

ANS.—The offsets are mostly removed in the spring before planting. At that time the clumps are cut apart, and two or three eyes are allowed to each piece. When a good display is desired the roots are started in boxes early, and bedded out when warm weather comes. Cannas will bear the hot sun well, but like plenty of water. To have fine plants never allow them to suffer from drought.

Mr. Park:—Can you tell me the name of the enclosed flower? It is one of the earliest spring flowers. If you can tell me the name, please let me know the price of one dozen bulbs.—Mrs. S. E. Crane, Mass., April 27, 1903.

ANS.—The flower is Scilla Siberica. It is perfectly hardy, and one of our earliest flowers. The bulbs should be obtained and planted in autumn. They may be obtained at ten cents per dozen. They appear well inserted in the sod upon the lawn, as they bloom before the grass begins to grow.

Tobacco Habit CURED SECRETLY BY LADIES. Box Sent FREE

The expensive, degrading and health destroying Tobacco Habit can now be quickly cured by an odorless and tasteless remedy. By placing it in a man's tea or coffee, it quickly cures him and he is surprised to find that his desire for chewing or smoking tobacco is gone and that even the odor of tobacco now makes him deathly sick. Tobacco injures a man's health; it makes him selfish, peevish, cross, irritable; it robs him of his sleep, appetite and love of his family and makes him a worse physical and mental wreck than does whiskey. Tobacco Heart, Tobacco Cancer, Tobacco Consumption, Tobacco Insanity are all caused by using this filthy and poisonous weed. If you will write to the Milo Drug Co., 605 Milo Building, St. Louis, Mo., they will gladly send you a package of this wonderful remedy in plain sealed wrapper upon receipt of 4 cents to pay postage.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Mr. Park:—In August, 1901, while visiting a friend, she gave me several plants of Chinese Primrose, which she had started from seeds bought of you that spring. I carried my plants home and carefully set them out in rich, light soil composed of woods dirt and sand. After a few days their growth was very rapid. I gave them an eastern window for their home, and a shower bath every two weeks. One night they chilled, and when I looked at them in the morning the leaves were stiff, but much to my surprise they paid not the slightest attention to this, but kept on growing. In February they began to bloom, and did not once go out of bloom until June, when they began to look sickly. Thinking they were going to die, I bedded them out in a shady spot in the garden, and forgot them. Imagine my surprise this fall to find them looking as nice as ever, and in full bloom again. I potted them at once, and they are now still in full bloom and bud. I will keep Primroses in the future. Grace E. Bumpus.

Oxford Co., Maine, Nov. 30, 1903.

Mr. Park:—I send a year's subscription to your Magazine. I like it ever so much. I am a great lover of flowers. I read in the little Magazine someone's letter saying the Rose Etoile de Lyon was a failure as a pot plant. I would like to say I have had very good success with it. The buds are so handsome and begin opening so long before the Rose really blooms, and it is so fragrant. In my opinion it cannot be excelled. I gave mine the same treatment I give Geraniums, except to water a little more freely. The great, sweet roses were as large as a teacup.

THE ADVENT OF SUMMER.

How do we know that sweet summer is coming?
How do we know that sweet summer is near?
Springtime is here, with its bird songs and beauty,
Summer is coming, for springtime is here.

Winter's so cold, with its chill winds so dreary,
Bade us adieu at the advent of spring.
Welcome, sweet springtime, with all thy fresh beauty;
With hearts full of rapture the happy birds sing.

Purity's emblem, the bright sparkling water,
Gleefully rushes through valley and glen,
Foams down the mountain side, swells the glad river,
Murmuring a welcome to springtime again.

Bright pearly clouds, through the azure-hued heaven,
Restfully float to the beautiful west,
Not idle, nor useless, but yielding to duty,
Nature's sweet emblem of fitness and rest.

Thus do we know that sweet summer is coming,
Thus do we know that sweet summer is near;
Springtime is here with its bird songs and beauty,
Summer is coming for springtime is here.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Mr. Park:—Platycodon has proved with me such a highly satisfactory perennial that I often marvel that it is cultivated by so few flower lovers. It is fine for veranda boxes, flower beds or cemetery use. For cemeteries or a border for flower beds or veranda boxes Gypsophila muralis is a perfect little gem, the tiny pink beauties constantly unfolding until after very severe frosts. Saponaria ocyoides splendens is another jewel for early blooming; also specially adapted for cemetery planting; a perfectly hardy perennial, its cheery pink star-shaped blossoms being produced in great abundance on Memorial Day. It does not bloom all summer like Gypsophila but makes a shining green carpet which protects from summer's drouth the roots of other favorite plants with which we decorate the resting places of our loved ones.

I Cure Women OF FEMALE DISEASES AND PILES

I Will Cure You So That You Will Stay Cured—Women No Longer
Need Submit to Embarrassing Examinations and Big Doctor Bills.

To Show Good Faith and to Prove to You That I Can Cure You I Will Send Free a Package of My Remedy to Every Sufferer.

I hold the secret of a discovery which has never failed to cure women of piles or female weakness. Falling of the womb, painful menstrual periods, leucorrhea, granulation, ulceration, etc., are very readily cured by my treatment.

I now offer this priceless secret to the women of America, knowing that it will always effect a cure, no matter how long you have suffered or how many doctors have failed.

I do not ask any sufferer to take my unsupported word for this, although it is true as gospel. If you will send me your name and address, I will send you a trial package absolutely free, which will show you that you can be cured. The free trial packages alone often are enough to cure.

ABOUT PERENNIALS.

Dear Floral Friends:—A few of my most desirable plants for a hardy border or bed are oriental and new colors of Poppies, also the little Iceland ones are extra fine. Scabiosa caucasica is fine for blue. Clematis Davidiana is not good for cutting, but is excellent for the border. Then the new Gaillardia and Caliopsis are easily grown, and are hardy and beautiful in every way. Campanulas in variety. C. turbinata is low growing and proves hardy, and if hardy here where won't it be. Don't forget the Wahlenbergia. The old kinds, as well as the new Dwarf Phlox is also greatly improved. Also, give a patch up to Japan Iris. There are many other deciduous plants, and plants of shrubs that are not a nuisance as I find Polygonum orientale to be.

Dr. G. W. Garrison.

Dodge Co., Minn., May 9, 1903.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Mr. Park:—I send you a leaf and blossom of a little blue flower, which blooms the first of anything for me in the spring. I should very much like to know the name of it, as so many people ask for its name, and I am unable to tell them. Please answer in your Magazine, which I prize very highly.

Mrs. L. Peterson.
Humboldt Co., Iowa.
April 15, 1903.

ANS.—The name is Scilla Siberica, the in both generic and specific names have the sound of k. Thus, Scilla is pronounced Skilla, giving i the short sound. The plant is from Siberia, and consequently hardy. The bulbs are obtained and planted in Autumn. See engraving.

SCILLA SIBERICA.

Dear Mr. Park:—I thank you for the many precious seeds received. I love to divide my flowers with others and see them enjoy them also. I am real glad we have the "Nabby Frosts", as "Ima" from Grange Co. calls them; but like her I cannot say I dread to see her come. I think we are put into this world to do good to others, and not live all for ourselves; and if you treat your other customers as you have me, I do not wonder you have so many loving friends. With best wishes for your further success, I remain your floral friend,
